'What would you think of a company that would work into the night to get photos finished for a deadline they were needed for? I'd say they were worth their weight in gold and I'd say to anyone in this room, remember Air Take Photography if you ever need any aerial photographs, as I would definitely recommend them! Brian Moore, Southern Director of BNI, addressing a room of business people in Mallow

'The work you did was absolutely fantastic, the shots are exactly what is needed to show the height and impact the new proposed building will have on the surrounding buildings and to show the views that will be seen from each storey, excellent work' North Cork Auctioneer
