

Air Take Photography's Terms and Conditions of operation

- It is the responsibility of the individual requiring the services of Air Take Photography to obtain permission from any nearby land owners, authorities etc to gain access to lands which are required for mast operation before Air Take Photography personnel arrive on site.
- Air Take Photography retains the original copyright for all images taken unless otherwise agreed. However, the customer is free to use and reproduce the photos taken for them by Air Take Photography once the invoice has been settled.
- Air Take Photography may use pictures taken for their own advertising purposes unless otherwise agreed
- Your enquiry will be treated with the utmost importance and a written quotation will be compiled as soon as possible.
- All pictures are supplied in JPEG format.
- A CD of pictures shall be presented to the customer on site, however all pictures will carry the Air Take Photography watermark until the invoice is settled.
- Once the invoice is settled, a CD with the customers original pictures will be delivered with the watermark removed.
- Work carried out following verbal / written agreement between Air Take Photography and the customer is deemed to be work commissioned by the customer and is deemed to carry the full agreed price unless Air Take Photography decide otherwise.
- Air Take Photography are operating to provide aerial photography at the best price and service level to the customer. As every property and customer will have different requirements, prices may vary. However, once a price has been agreed, there shall be no alteration of this agreed price unless Air Take Photography decide otherwise. Any additional service or products not agreed initially will be billed extra.
- As Air Take Photography strive to provide the best photography, suitable weather conditions are a pre requisite to fulfil a satisfactory commission. Weather conditions such as wind and rain play a huge part in the successful deployment of the mast and so where weather conditions are not suitable, the work will have to be postponed. Air Take Photography take no responsibility for work not completed at a specific time.